

2005 Margan Semillon

TASTINGS

Wines to Cellar

"This wine is direct, cutting, clean in the mouth, like a cold mountain stream, and it's a wonderfully refreshing accompaniment to oysters.

But at the wine's core, there's also a tightly coiled line of nervy acidity and bound-up flavour. Put this away in the cellar for a decade or more and marvel as it unwinds to reveal a dazzling array of characters such as lime syrup and crunchy toast and thick cream."

December 2005 Panel—Max Allen, Peter Bourne, Bob Campbell MW, Peter Forrestal, Huon Hooke, Jeremy Oliver.
