Semillon 2006

90 Points

"Very expressive aromatics and flavors, which suggest figs, lime, dried herbs and freshly-mown hay.

Although these nuances are pretty impressive, its structural properties are at least as strong, with medium body and a fairly broad, weighty midpalate but very energetic acidity that lifts and defines the finish. Fine Semillon is often wonderful with moderately robust foods, and indeed this wine was the runaway winner out of half a dozen wines tried with mussels in a green curry and coconut milk sauce."
